

FREE PRESS

 SUNNY 54°
FREE PRESS

Community News
Sports and Outdoors
Classifieds
Opinion
Arts and Entertainment
Business
Calendar
Obituaries
Faith Matters
Regional News
People
Food
Restaurant Reviews
Health
Photo Galleries
Real Estate
Check Our BBB Rating
SERVICES
Archives
Business Directory
Service Directory
Subscribe
Email Newsletter
Email Headlines
Send a Letter to the Editor
Submit a Restaurant Review
News Feeds
Weather
Travel & Lodging
NEWSPAPERS
Aspen Times
Citizen Telegram
Eagle Valley Enterprise
Glenwood Springs Post Independent
Leadville Chronicle
Snowmass Sun
Summit Daily
Vail Daily
The Vail Trail
Valley Journal

Search: Classifieds | Place an Ad

Briefly ... news

June 7, 2007
 Comments \(0\)  Print  Email

Spin cycle

Kandi M. Gomez, 28, was allegedly found by sheriff's deputies hiding inside a clothes dryer of a home at 480 32 1/8 Road in Clifton, according to reports. She was arrested on two outstanding felony warrants.

The history of Gene Taylor

The Museum of Western Colorado presents an oral history by Gene Taylor, who will talk about his sporting goods business and its expansion in Colorado. The presentation is free and will be Wednesday, June 13 at 10 a.m. at the Whitman Educational Center, 248 S. Fourth St. Info: 242-0971, ext. 209.

Meth contamination in homes

Tonight, the Mesa County Methamphetamine Task Force will hear from National Jewish Research Health Institute about the latest present information on meth contamination in homes. The public is invited. Meet at Canyon View View 736 24 1/2 Road at 6:30 p.m.

Feds to help with arson investigation

Special agents from the Federal Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms are in Grand Junction this week to help Mesa County authorities solve the arson at St. Joseph Catholic Church. Someone broke in to the church Friday night and set it on fire.

You've heard it before, teen: Get a job!

For hundreds of teenagers in and around Grand Junction, time is running out to get a great summer job available, said the Mesa County Workforce Center. Since 1981, the workforce center has been connecting local employers willing to give them a chance to learn, put skills to use and see firsthand how a business works. Job seekers and employers can obtain more information about the free service by visiting the Web site www.coworkforce.com, then click on the summer job hunt icon. Or call the workforce center, 248-0811.

Check out the Grand Junction Police Department's "Ten Most Wanted" listed on the city web site. Visit www.gjpd.com and click on "Ten Most Wanted," and see if you can help locate one of these people. CrimeStoppers will reward you for your help. Call 241-7867 or visit www.2451STOP.com.

Heirlooms for Hospice is 7 now

And to celebrate, the store at 635 Main St., and 435 E. Main in Montrose will have special sales this week. Over the years, the stores have contributed more than $200,000 to Hospice & Palliative Care of West Grand Junction. Contact Anne at 254-8556.

Fish, do what Dad wants to on Father's Day

Celebrate Father's Day at Mack Mesa Lake at Highline Lake State Park and enjoy fishing. Sunday, June 10, kids will meet for a morning of fishing starting at 9. There will be prizes for dads who catch the smallest and the largest fish and the most fish.

Info: 858-7208 or www.parks.state.co.us.

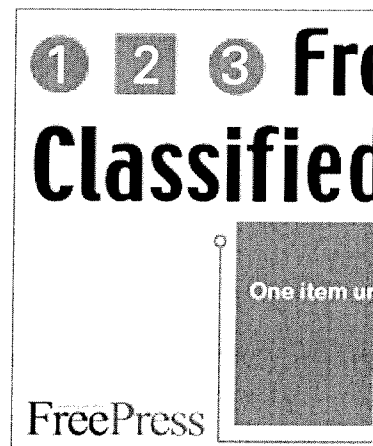

Dying for live music? Fresh vegetables?

It may be cool outside, but it'll be a hot time on Main Street tonight.

It's high time for Grand Junction's most popular summer event. The American National Bank Farmers Market is in its 15-week run tonight. Every Thursday on downtown's Main Street from 5 to 8:30 p.m.

Know a giver?

Illene Roggensack of Third Sector Innovations, Inc., is looking for outstanding givers for National Philanthropy Day on June 11.

1 2 3 Free Classifieds
 One item up
 FreePress